Rally Review Decided

Time Square Incident Will Be Heard Later

Washington (UPI) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to review the conviction of 17 anti-Vietnam demonstrators for holding a street rally in Times Square Aug. 8, 1964.

The court will schedule arguments later this term on the contention that members of the so-called "May 2nd movement," organized at Yale University, were convicted in violation of the 1st amendment guarantee of the right to peacefully express political dissent.

The New York Appeals Court upheld the convictions on June 2, 1966. One judge dissented, saying "A fundamental right was suppressed under guise of preserving order."

Seven of the demonstrators had been sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or spend five days in jail. The rest received suspended sentences.

The court decision came in a light day before it recessed its new term for two weeks.

In the only other significant actions, the court:

—Agreed to hear an appeal of hundreds of Japanese-Americans whose life savings were confiscated by the government during World War II. The savings still have not been returned.

—Refused to interfere with picketing at the Jacksonville, Fla., railway station by operating unions striking against Florida East Coast Railway. Two other railroads operating out of the same terminal said the picketing blocked their runs although they had no dispute with the unions.

The anti-war demonstrators case, they contended, was a lawful exercise of 1st amendment rights and that the police order to disperse was unconstitutional so the state could not punish them for failure to obey it.

The state cited the Supreme's Court's own decision in a civil rights case that a group could not insist "upon a street meeting in the middle of Times Square at the rush hour as a form of freedom of speech or assembly."

"Governmental authorities have the duty and responsibility to keep their streets open and available for movement," the state said.

According to the demonstrators, the meeting caused no substantial inconvenience in other street uses and was peaceful until New York City police broke it up with patrolmen and horses. They cited evidence police had predetermined to break it up.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON REMAINS QUIET AT MANILA MEET

Saigon Pledges Popular Vote

By PETER LISAGOR
Chicago Daily News Special

Manila — South Vietnam's military leaders Monday pledged to turn over their country to a popularly elected government "in a few months."

In an atmosphere of calculated optimism about the war, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky told President Johnson and the leaders of five other nations with forces in Vietnam that "to be valid and effective, the regime in South Vietnam must be chosen by its own people."

At the same time, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, warned that the war is "far from over" and that additional allied troops will be required above the 370,000 free world forces now engaged.

Ky, who has been often suspected in the United States of aspiring to perpetuate the rule of the military directorate, gave a candid appraisal of military, political and economic conditions in his war-torn country, which deeply impressed the other Asian and Pacific leaders here.

He said the military leaders were solemnly committed to opposition to "all forms of dictatorship, whether it be imperialist, Communist or military."

Pleasing Words

Ky's words, nicely balancing an avowed desire for peace with a call for continued firmness, were eminently pleasing to American officials.

He said he would soon offer insurgents "deluded by the Communists" a chance to become fully restored to civilian life without penalty, and that those choosing the Communist way would be allowed to go to North Vietnam.

Throughout the opening session of the conference, President Johnson fulfilled his announced intention to "listen and learn." He asked no questions of the South Vietnamese speakers, deferring to the chiefs of governments of Australia, New Zealand, Thailand, South Korea and the Philippines.

However, Johnson held lengthy private conversations with the other leaders before the conference opened, impressing upon each in turn his aim to maintain an even-handed but flexible approach to the war in Vietnam. He made clear both his firmness and his willingness to entertain any reasonable proposals to talk peace with Hanoi.

It hasn't been easy for Johnson to play a mere partner's role here, to allow the Pacific and Asian allies their moment in the sun.

"Mr. God"

But he has confided to associates that he wanted to avoid any hint that a Big Uncle Sam had come here to dictate to clients. He views this conference as more of a board meeting in which the Americans would not appear as Mr. God. He particularly has sought to allay any fears that the U.S. might bug out at the slightest hint of a peace overture from the Communists. To this end he resisted the temptation to order a bombing pause as tactically unwise and misleading at this time.

He also wanted the other allies to see and assess Westmoreland, who gave the conference an evaluation of the military situation in which he praised the role of the South Vietnamese troops who have had 11,400 killed or missing in action compared to 4,000 allied losses. Westmoreland stressed, however, that Viet Cong terror and assassination has increased sharply since the Vietnamese elections last month.

Premier Ky admitted that the task of pacifying villages cleared of Viet Cong has been slow. It has been disappointing to American civil and military officials, who feel that the Saigon government has been less than vigorous in its pursuit of the "other war" front.

But Ky offered the view that "winning people's hearts should be slow and sure rather than fast and fleeting."

It was Ky's emphasis on what the Vietnamese call "revolutionary development" that heartened the Americans. He said that the "only way to outdo the Reds is to wage a merciless war on poverty, ignorance and disease, and to have, no matter what the price, an efficient and clean government."

3,000 Students Demonstrate, Call Johnson 'Asian Butcher'

Manila (UPI) — About 3,000 students calling President Johnson an "Asian butcher," staged a wild demonstration outside the U.S. Chief Executive's hotel Monday that erupted into fist fights and gunfire.

Initial reports said at least one student was shot in the neck. Other students, and police officers alike, dripped blood as rocks, fists and soft-drink bottles were thrown during the melee a few feet from the doorway to the historic Manila hotel where Johnson and most other delegates to the summit conference are staying.

Some of the youthful demonstrators got into the lobby of the hotel where many of the delegates were watching the protest.

Johnson, whose window looked out over the demonstrators, ignored the fracas, sources said. But the security guard at the hotel was beefed up by a platoon of Philippine army troops in full combat gear.

Johnson's hotel room was well removed from the riot scene.

The fight erupted when the students marched on the hotel following a demonstration in front of the U.S. embassy.

Police at first permitted them onto the hotel grounds but decided to move in when the mob became unruly.

At least seven gunshots split the night air. One student fell from a flesh wound on the right side of his neck and was taken in a taxi to a hospital, bleeding profusely.

Congress: Bulbs Fail Too Soon

Double Time For a Nickel

Chicago Daily News Special

Washington—Electric light bulbs burn out too fast.

Their average life could be doubled for a nickel a year more for each 60 or 100-watt bulb.

These conclusions were reached by a congressional subcommittee in a report bluntly telling major bulb manufacturers to get busy and produce longer-lasting products.

The report, filed by the House government activities subcommittee, said the General Service Adm. achieved savings of $2 million a year by using special kinds of bulbs.

But it said the savings could be increased if the light of the standard bulb was lengthened. The hazards of replacing burn-out bulbs also were cited:

"Replacements often involve shaky climbs on step-ladders, chairs or tables to reach ceiling fixtures contained burned-out bulbs which should have lasted longer," the report said.

In government offices and industry, the subcommittee said, it often costs more to pay someone to replace bulbs than it does to pay for the bulb itself.

Gallup Poll

Pessimism Over Vietnam Rising; Goldberg's Peace Plan Supported

Princeton, N.J.—Pessimism over Vietnam during 1966 has reached new proportions. The latest nationwide Gallup survey shows that for every person who thinks the Vietnam picture is brightening, three hold the view that we are bogging down in a hopeless situation. Those who think we will gain a military victory are far outweighed by those who think the war will end in a stalemate, "like Korea."

Here are further indications of how public opinion has been shaping up on the Vietnam situation, based on recent surveys:

1. A majority vote for escalation, with a minority favoring a policy of carrying on the present level of fighting or de-escalation.

2. The peace proposal offered by Ambassador Goldberg wins widespread support. Nearly three persons in every four approve in general of the basic concepts of the plan calling for mutual-de-escalation, or favor it with minor reservations.

3. Widespread public support is found for the idea of advocating a larger role for South Vietnam in the fighting of the war. Present attitudes are comparable to those during 1952, at the height of the Korean War.

With the elections for Congress only two weeks off, a special Gallup Poll editorial team recently returned from the field, having conducted many in-depth interviews with typical voters to supplement the thousands of interviews made by the Gallup Poll's nationwide staff of interviewers.

Our semifinal report on the Congressional race shows the Republicans to be making sharp gains over recent weeks, with survey results pointing to larger than average off-year gains. What impact events will have on the race between now and Nov. 8 will be reflected in the Gallup Poll's final report on the race, to be published the day before the election.

The Vietnam War is seen by voters in every section of the country to be the nation's top problem. While it is difficult to weigh the precise effect the Vietnam War may have on voting behavior on Nov. 8, it is clear that it will be on people's minds when they go into the polling booth.

Nation's Top Problem

Traditionally, during a period of adverse events, the party in power suffers. "This war is dragging on and on and Johnson doesn't seem to be doing anything" is the type of comment heard by those who pin the blame on the present Administration.

Party No Factor

Although much of the public's frustrations are taken out on President Johnson and his Administration, many people at the same time seem willing to believe that the President is a victim of circumstances.

The American people, as well as their leaders, are searching for a peaceful and honorable way out of the conflict. In past surveys the public has welcomed any proposal which they believe would lead to a cessation of hostilities and yet "save face."

However, as the war continues, the American people may be getting closer to a "peace at any price" position, regardless of what happens to the "image" of our country. Early pride at our upholding the ideals of the free world may be stifled by the grim reality of casualty lists.

As discouragement grows, so does the feeling that we made a mistake going to South Vietnam in the first place.

Again and again the phrase is heard — "go in and get it over with," or an alternative —"go all-out or get out."

Adding It Up

The answer to the question of whether Vietnam will hurt the Democrats in the coming election must therefore be answered in the affirmative.

Although there is little agreement as to what should be done to bring peace in Vietnam, and to get the boys home, voters hold the party in power responsible when the nation is in trouble.

Voters take out their frustrations and disappointments by voting against the party in power, hoping that any change may be for the good.

Hanoi, Peking Blast Summit

Tokyo (UPI)—Communist China and North Vietnam joined Monday in denouncing the Manila conference. Peking called the Vietnam peace meeting a "big fraud" while Hanoi charged it was President Johnson's effort to use more "Asians to fight Asians."

The propaganda blasts indicated that neither Peking nor Hanoi was ready to alter, at least publicly, its position on Vietnam peace talks despite any proposals that may emerge from the Manila summit conference.

Demonstrations Warnings Made

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, (AP) — A leftist opposition to President Lyndon Johnson's visit to Malaysia Sunday gained momentum Monday with a warning to the U.S. chief of state not to set foot here.

The warning was contained in an open letter to the "American consul general in Malaya" from 22 leftwing trade unions in Singapore. Copies were issued to newspapers there.

Police sources here said security officials were watching for a possible joint demonstration against Johnson by Singapore and Kuala Lumpur leftists, who have maintained links despite the separation of Singapore from Malaysia last year.

Johnson Requests 'Score'

Congress Bats .905 on LBJ Legislation

Compiled From News Wires

Washington — The White House Monday cabled President Johnson in Manila that the 89th Congress batted .905 on approving his legislative requests.

Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien, who still serves part-time in his old job of chief legislative liaison aid for the chief executive, and White House assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. made the assessment.

Newsmen closely questioned the men about spending since Johnson had said it would affect his decision on whether to seek tax increases.

Califano said about a month ago, the Budget Bureau estimated that Congress would boost appropriations some $6 billion to $8 billion over the President's requests. But he said in the last few weeks, Congress "has done an excellent job" in cutting back.

He gave no new estimate on how much the total appropriation would be above the President's budget.

181 Passed

O'Brien and Califano said they reached the .905 batting average for Congress by figuring that of 200 administration-sponsored measures, 181 passed.

Organized labor—which expected to be a big winner—was instead one of the big losers during the 89th Congress, ending up with a legislative batting average of just .250.

Most notably its top legislative goal — repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, the so-called "right-to-work" provision failed. The House, under intense pressure from lobbyists on both sides, passed the repealer after a long battle. But it fell the victim of a Senate filibuster.

The building trades unions suffered another setback when Congress failed to act on its long-sought goal of easing restrictions on picketing at construction sites.

Another piece of labor-backed legislation did not make it—a Johnson plan to liberalize unemployment benefits. House and Senate negotiators could not reconcile the differences between two bills and the measure died in the 89th's last hours.

'Very Pleased'

President Johnson, roused from sleep in Australia to hear that Congress was ready to go home Saturday night, pronounced himself "very pleased" with the work of the 89th.

But that was not the way the Republicans saw it. House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford, Mich., called the 89th's 10-month 1966 session "the spendingest" in the nation's history. It appropriated $145 billion, a total exceeded only by the 78th Congress' $147 billion in 1943, the peak of World War II.

President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1 billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do—won late approval at $1.39 billion, less than half what he asked.

Red Woman 'Pistol Packer' Kills 2

Village 30 Miles From Saigon Hit

Saigon (UPI)—North Vietnamese troops Monday attacked a U.S. Marine command post just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) in apparent preparation for their expected monsoon offensive. In the south a pistol packing woman Viet Cong terrorist assassinated two officials in a Mekong Delta village.

The Communist troops, taking advantage of darkness and drenching monsoon rains, opened a mortar attack on a U.S. Marine 7th Regiment post in Operation Prairie, inflicting light casualties. It was the first such attack of the three-month-old battle of the border.

Two U.S. Marine helicopters en route to pick up casualties suffered in the Communist attack crashed in the heavy monsoon rain. One hit a mountainside. The other plummeted into a river. Both crews suffered light casualties. A third helicopter reached the command post and brought out the wounded.

The assault came as Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. military chief in Vietnam, told the Manila Summit Conference a major new Red offensive was expected before start of the U.S. elections in November. He was reported to have said more troops would have to be sent to Vietnam to defeat the Reds.

The woman terrorist struck in a village 30 miles south of Saigon. She strolled into a peaceful Sunday morning market place crowd dressed as a housewife, pulled a pistol from a shopping bag and shot dead the police chief and a government ranger lieutenant. She cleared her escape route with a grenade and fled in a waiting river motorboat.

Her action coincided with the start of a series of a special kind of hide-and-seek clashes in which U.S. troops found and killed Communists Sunday and Monday in sampans, caves, tunnels, underbrush and rice paddies up and down the country. An Australian force "smelled out" and destroyed one force and its headquarters near Saigon.

Could Vitamin A Halt Lung Cancer?

Tokyo (AP)—Big doses of Vitamin A can halt or prevent development of lung cancer in animals, a scientist reported.

Dr. Umberto Saffiotti, Italian-born pathologist now at the Chicago Medical School described his research at opening scientific sessions of the ninth International Cancer Congress.

He turned up evidence that dust particles in the air, or in cigaret smoke, can be the "carriers" to take cancer-causing chemicals into the lungs.

Using hamsters, he prepared inert dust particles to which were attached crystals of a potent cancer-causer, benzopyrene.

The chemical attacked the bronchial tissues from the inside, in a sneak backdoor approach, avoiding the surface mucosa or cilia that could have a sweeping-away action. Normal cells began changing to cancerous cells.

Hamsters given dust only, without benzopyrene, did not get tumors.

Looking for a way to prevent the cancers, Dr. Saffiotti gave some hamsters — already treated with combined dust — two 5,000-unit feedings of Vitamin A. Only one developed a tumor, compared with 30% of a group of dusted mice not getting the vitamin.

Slide 'Made By Spring'

Aberfan, Wales (UPI) — Welsh authorities said Monday a spring which bubbled up inside a 800-foot mountain of coal slag outside the village was largely responsible for the slide which snuffed out the lives of some 200 persons Friday.

A force of 500 miners worked during the night trying to complete a 300-yard tunnel to the hidden spring and install pipes to divert the water so the mountain of slag still standing would pose less of a threat. Water—at first thought caused by heavy rains — brought Friday's disaster. So far the death toll has risen to 143.

Recovery teams were reinforced by 450 British Army and Navy men in their task of sifting through the soggy debris for more victims.

Teddy's Campaign Idea OK'd 59 Years Later

Washington (UPI) — Congress needed only 59 years to approve one of the legislative proposals in Theodore Roosevelt's 1907 State of the Union message — to finance national political campaigns from the federal treasury.

The first Roosevelt in the White House called his plan "a radical scheme" and conceded it might take a while for the people to buy it. But was he thinking of 59 years?

As part of a tax bill passed just before adjournment Saturday, Congress approved a revolutionary idea to let each taxpayer earmark $1 of his personal income tax payment for a fund to finance Presidential campaigns. The Democrats and the Republicans could whack up as much as $60 million between them for their 1968 Presidential campaigns.

The bill does not permit any public financing of Congressional or other campaigns and Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the author of the measure, predicted Sunday it never would.

Assuming Presidential approval, Americans will notice a change on their income tax returns to be filed by April, 1968.

Payments from the fund could be made to major parties only to cover unpaid campaign expenses. Based on the popular vote of slightly more than 70 million in 1964, the Democrats and the Republicans would get $30 million each in 1968. Minor parties, those polling under 15 million votes, would get $1 for each vote over 5 million. None would benefit in 1968.

It was in his annual message to Congress Dec. 3, 1907—Congress normally convened in December in those days — that TR said:

". . . There is a very radical measure which would, I believe, work a substantial improvement in our system of conducting a campaign, although I am aware that it will take some time for people so to familiarize themselves with such a proposal as to be willing to consider its adoption.

"The need for collecting large campaign funds would vanish if Congress provided an appropriation for the proper and legitimate expenses of each of the great national parties, an appropriation ample enough to meet the necessity for thorough organization and machinery, which requires a large expenditure of money."

Polymyositis
Physicians Alerted For 'Mimic' Disease

Harriman, N.Y. (AP)—The nation's physicians were urged Monday to be alert for a prime "masquerader" of tragically crippling muscular distrophy — lest they miss or delay attacking a treatable disease.

The "mimic" disease — treatable by drugs of the cortisone family — is a muscle-weakening malady called "polymyositis."

And it can often be confused by the unwary with muscular dystrophy, for which there are no drugs or other effective treatments, said Dr. Carl M. Pearson, professor of medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles School of Medicine.

Muscular dystrophy affects at least 200,000 persons in the United States alone and polymyositis strikes neaarly half as many others, he said

He told about it in addressing an unusual international conference on "exploratory concepts in muscular dystrophy and related disorders," and he amplified in an interview.

Whereas there is no treatment at present for muscular dystrophy, other than physical medicine measures that are merely comforting, Pearson said this is the prospect with the "masquerading" disease if diagnosed early

"You can expect some improvement and in a few cases nearly full recovery of strength (of muscles) in about 70% of cases treated with corticosteroids — that is, cortisone and its derivative drugs."

He also said there is a certain form of polymyositis that is associated with cancerous and other malignant growths, and that alert diagnoses can lead to the eradication of the otherwise unsuspected tumor in occasional cases He added that in some such cases, the elimination of the growth can eradicate completely all evidence of the muscle weakening polymyositis

Mother Critical
Educator, Daughter Found Dead

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP)—The killer of a Florida Dept. of Education official and his 12-year-old daughter in their fashionable home left no clues and Sheriff William Joyce said Monday no motive had been found

Killed Saturday night were Robert W. Sims, 42, director of data processing, and his daughter, Joy Lynn Each had been bound, gagged and shot once in the head

Sims' wife, Helen, was bound, gagged and shot twice in the head and once in the leg. She was in "very critical" condition at a Tallahassee hospital.

Another daughter, Norma Jeannette 17, discovered the two bodies and her wounded mother when she returned home.

A third daughter, Judith, 16, returned home from a babysitting job after the bodies had been found.

The parkside area of university professors and higher-income state officials was shocked. The street where the Sim family lived was closed to traffic after hundreds of sightseers converged upon it.

GIs Prefer Homey Gift For Yule

Washington (UPI) — From Da Nang to Darmstadt, the gifts U.S. servicemen abroad want most from their families and friends this Christmas are those with a homey touch.

The desire for homemade things was No. 1 on the gift parade in a survey made by American Red Cross field directors stationed with U.S. troops in the United States and at far-flung outposts in South Vietnam, West Germany, South Korea, Newfoundland and the Azores.

Family gifts should vary according to where a man is stationed, the Red Cross said. Perishables such as soft candy, cookies or cakes are not very practical for men in distant tropical areas like Southeast Asia.

"In stateside military bases, however, mom's homemade goodies often arrive safely if properly packed and bring joy to a son's heart." The Red Cross said

Santa Claus is going to have to pay his own way to Vietnam this Christmas, but still the flood of gifts for U.S. servicemen there is expected to reach record proportions. There will be no free airlift as there was in 1965.

Ocean shipments already have started, with a suggested deadine of Nov. 10. Air shipments can be held back until Dec. 10.

Unfilled Rail Car Fee Is Proposed

Chicago Sun-Times Special

Chicago — The nation's railroads are getting ready to seek a whopping increase in freight revenues — about $1 billion annually — without formally announcing an increase in freight rates.

What they propose to do is put a 5% penalty on all freight cars not loaded to capacity.

This, they argue, will improve the utilization of freight cars, few of which travel completely filled. Moreover, the penalty is not inflationary since the cost per unit on freight moved is not being increased, the railroads claim.

In a statement mailed for publication in last Saturday's Traffic Bulletin, a semiofficial chronicle of rate actions in the transportation industry, the railroads called for hearings in Chicago Dec. 5-7 to receive shipper reaction to the proposed move.

In practice, only grain and some other bulk commodity cars are filled to capacity.

According to the yearbook of railroad facts put out by the Assn. of American Railroads, the average freight car had a capacity of 59.6 tons in 1966 while the average carload consisted of 49.4 tons.

Railroads are quick to point out that revenue per ton-mile — the cost to the shipper per ton for each mile the freight is moved — declined for the ninth consecutive year.

Financing Highway Improvements

In defending his stand against a bonding program to improve Nebraska's highways and streets,Lt. Gov. Philip Sorensen cited Omaha's withdrawal of two bond issues from the November ballot as proof of the folly of such a course.

* * *

It now develops, though, that the Omaha decision to hold off on a bond issue vote was simply one of strategy and timing and had nothing to do with the merits of this method of raising revenues.

* * *

Omaha's municipal leaders reversed their earlier action to ask voter approval of a $6.5 million bond issue for street and freeway improvement and $1.5 million for sewers. This, said Sorensen, confirmed his opposition to highway bonds.

The fact of the matter, as reported by Greg Stuve of Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen's office, is that the bond issue vote was held off to avoid the "confusion" of such an issue on the Nov. 8 ballot.

The decision was very similar to that of the Lincoln School Board in deciding not to put the question of a junior college on the Nov. 8 ballot. This in no way indicated opposition of the school board to the junior college concept but was merely a judgment that the number and the nature of issues on that ballot could be too confusing for an objective decision by voters.

* * *

In the Omaha case, Stuve explained, it is not known at this time what kind of tax system will be in effect in the next year and what the re-evaluation of property tax values will show. No matter what happens, though, "we will still have to go to the people with a bond issue," Stuve said.

* * *

The controversy on state highway bonds is not on a specific bond issue in this election but has become centered on the total philosophy of issuing bonds to finance public projects. The earliest removal of constitutional barriers against highway bonds is now two years in the future. Another year or more probably would be needed to draw up specific proposals.

Sorensen cites the large amounts paid in interest on public bond issues. But this, of course is true of bond issues for any public purpose. Every community in the state issues bonds for school buildings, sewer systems, water supply, electrical utilities or some public need. Surely all these communities are not wrong in this practice.

In 46 other states of the union, bonds are used for highway improvement. Surely all these states cannot be wrong.

* * *

Rather it seems that in this case it is Sorensen who is wrong. His position against the bond issue approach to highway improvement stands in sharp contrast to the progressive stance of his opponent in the governor's race, Republican Norbert Tiemann.

* * *

The pay-as-you-go philosophy, as advocated by Sorensen in this case, has its advantages, of course. But Sorensen has not offered any proposals for improved streets and highways under a pay-as-you-go policy. His program looks like more of the same inadequacy that the state has condoned for too many years.

Hopefully, the $300,000 legislative study now underway will shed light on the details of what is needed in Nebraska in the way of roads and streets. But it shouldn't take a study of this magnitude to reveal that something more is needed. The question of how to finance this additional need is a legitimate issue in this campaign for the governorship.

* * *

In dismissing the bond approach while not spelling out his own program, Sorensen appears to have defaulted any leadership on this important matter.

The Role of a Listener

News reports from Manila say President Johnson made the decision to cut himself out of the role of "Mr. Big" at the Manila conference on Vietnam and behave as an equal among allies.

* * *

Mr. Johnson, more or less, confirmed it in his arrival statement: "I come to listen, to learn and to do what I can to help chart the work ahead."

* * *

This is not an easy role for the head of the biggest government which is furnishing most of the money and a great part of the manpower in the war.

It is a particularly hard role for a man with the temperament of President Johnson, who has the reputation for using power politics as a means to an end.

In international affairs Americans are not prone to listen and treat nations as equals. In the dispensing of foreign aid there is a "father knows best" attitude.

Within our land there is a vast ignorance of the problems of other nations and even what is involved in the war in Vietnam. This goes for the pseudo intellectuals, who want peace at any price, and those who want a quick military win.

* * *

If President Johnson can successfully fulfill the role he has decided to play—listen, not dictate—then the stature of the United States could rise in the Asian world and in reality President Johnson will deserve the title of "Mr. Big."

Break for Minority Group

By programming on Sunday afternoon, KUON-TV has enlarged its service for that small segment of the viewing public which wants a more substantial fare than is sometimes offered on the commercial stations.

For instance last Sunday on the Festival of Arts the offerings included a concert of the music of Sibelius and the dramatization of Tolstoy's classic story of a tragic love, "Anna Karenina."

Both were repeats of Friday night shows on KUON-TV. These were followed by Bernice Slote discussing the works of Thomas Hardy.

These offerings of good music, drama and literature add emphasis to the important role educational television is playing in the lives of Nebraska people.

* * *

The University of Nebraska was a pioneer in educational television and as a result the state has been greatly enriched.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND'S Opinion

Congress Is Overpraised

Washington—Congress didn't do as well as it looks.

Congressmen will be well advised not to hug themselves too warmly on how well they have transacted the public business this year.

Drummond

And President Johnson would be more credible if he would cut back a little on his own extravagant praise of Congress as having made a legislative record near to super-colossal.

There is no doubt that in numerous areas of acute need—education, medicine, auto-safety, and the war on poverty, for examples—Congress has been truly responsive to the President's leadership. Not that everything Congress has done has necessarily been for the best, but this Congress has been trying to cope with the nation's problems.

As a result Congress has made a productive and significant record. It merits praise, but there is no need to overdo it. The danger is of making it appear that Congress has done a better job than it has.

* * *

The Congress is still nowhere near to being an efficient instrument for transacting the public business. It is dangerously inefficient and spawns inefficiency. In the age of $100 billion budgets and computerization, the way Congress conducts its affairs is not quite up to the horse and buggy era.

* * *

Four months after the beginning of the fiscal year July 1, Congress had failed to act on 75% of the federal budget.

In other words, after one-third of the first fiscal year had passed, the executive branch of the government was being forced to plan, organize, and execute the public business with most of the appropriations necessary to do so still undecided by Congress.

Approximately four weeks before Congress was to adjourn, after being in session for 40 weeks, it had still failed to act upon about $75 billion of appropriations.

And what does this mean?

It means that many of the vast programs approved by Congress couldn't be adequately planned, couldn't be well organized, couldn't be effectively administered, and couldn't be sure what Congress was going to do to or for them at the last minute.

And it also means that Congress is acting on—approving, disapproving, or just idly kicking under the rug—approximately 75% of a $100 billion budget in the last harried, hectic, wearying days before adjournment—when anything can happen and often does.

* * *

If any private enterprise were to manage its business with such inefficient and irresponsible procedures, it would soon go bankrupt and those to blame would be fired.

* * *

Just passing some kind of statute isn't going to help a bit. Why shouldn't Congress set itself the target of completing every appropriation bill on time—that is, by June 30—and then a July recess could be the automatic reward, or as much of July as was left after all appropriations bills were acted upon?

LBJ has reason to feel that Congress has been quite responsive to his leadership. But when some of the President's constituents examine the record, they will not likely overlook the fact that Congress rejected Johnson's first order of business (repeal of Taft-Hartley's 14B), killed home rule for Washington, impeded his efforts to improve trade with Eastern Europe, and discarded his most earnestly advocated request (the 1966 civil rights bill).

A joint Senate-House committee did come forward with some suggestions on Congressional reform. It proposed bold action on minor matters and inaction on major reforms needed to bring Congress into the space age.

Job Corps Salaries

Lincoln — The question of Job Corps salaries has become one of the most talked about yet misunderstood issues in Lincoln. Ironically, it has become almost an accepted fact that these salaries are just part of the federal government's "wild spendings."

These are the facts about the Lincoln Jop Corps salaries:

1. Northern Natural Gas, not the federal government, determines and administers the salary scale.

2. Managerial and administrative positions are at the same level as that with Northern proper.

3. In order to compensate for the risk involved, teachers' salaries are 10% above the Omaha-Lincoln public school structure.

4. Clerical and operating personnel salary ranges are identical with those in Northern; these rates are below Civil Service and a little higher than downtown Lincoln.

DAN GOODMAN

Plan of Salvation?

Auburn — Mrs. Ray Rice (Public Mind Oct. 10) quotes from I Cor. 1:21, "The world cannot know through wisdom."

The word "world" here is from "Kosmos" and refers to "order," "arrangement" under which Satan organized the unbelieving mankind.

This unregenerated world cannot give wisdom to Billy Graham if he believes in the Sovereignty of God as taught in the Scriptures and He is not subjected to the opinions and conduct of men.

Christians were shocked when Billy Graham's publication, Decision, for August, 1966, proclaimed that the Ministry of Religious Affairs in Warsaw had approved an invitation to the evangelist. This agency is that part of the Communist government which controls all church activities.

Billy Graham heads the World Congress on Evangelism which is to meet "by invitation only" in Berlin, Oct. 26-Nov. 4.

Richard Wurmbrand had an invitation to the World Congress but it was withdrawn after his visit to the U.S. and his testimony before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee last May, in which he told the true condition of the churches and liberty behind the Iron Curtain.

He stated, "So it will be again a 'World Congress' without the underground church of one-third of the world. They have preferred to have delegates of the official churches of the East, the denunciations of the evangelists, tortured and killed there."

Is this the simple plan of salvation?

MRS. A. VANDERFORD

Sunday Sales

Lincoln — Last month you had an editorial on the liquor issue and it posed some questions worth considering.

It had one error. You say the present system of ways to get liquor-by-the-drink has "minor limitations and extra safeguards on the public serving of liquor."

This doesn't seem correct. If we had legal liquor-by-the-drink, no liquor could be served on Sunday. Today there are non-profit clubs that do just that.

By voting for liquor-by-the-drink the restrictions would be tougher, not easier, and Sunday sales is an example. I plan to vote for liquor-by-the-drink.

R. W. EVERETT

Not Lincoln Only

Wahoo—So the Committee of 66 of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce disbanded after having circulated petitions in Lincoln for liquor-by-the drink. The passage of this bill doesn't affect the citizens of Lincoln alone.

The state of Nebraska and surrounding areas pour into the higher schools located in the city, thousands of young people. The universities and the state government represent the higher cultural levels of the state. The availability of drink to these young people defeats the purpose for which parents from out of the state send their sons and daughters.

Let Lincoln choose well and maintain the high cultural standards which all people expect of the city.

Record Set Straight

I hope the citizens of Nebraska who have been criticizing the voting record of Sen. Carl Curtis viewed the program Wednesday evening, Oct. 19, on KOLN-TV.

Sen. Curtis certainly set the record straight. There should be no doubt now as to who should represent Nebraska in Congress.

We have a choice of voting for two men. The one man is an "LBJ all the way" man. The other is an honest, dedicated man with 28 years of congressional experience who has worked for Nebraska and has the integrity to stand up and vote no when he feels a "no" is the best route.

The choice is very clear.

SIDNEY ANN JOHNSEN

New Image

Lincoln—Anyone who doubts that Gov. Morrison would make an effective U.S. Senator should take a hard look at the last six years.

Since 1960, Nebraska has out-paced all other Midwestern states in population growth, made unprecedented economic progress, instituted agricultural research programs, initiated an educational television network, formed a trade expansion council, initiated a community betterment contest, sponsored the Governor's Trade Missions to Europe, initiated successful tourist promotion program, played a significant role in the organization of the Midwest Resources Assn. of the Midwest Governor's Conference and passed the state's first industrial development act.

Our state can continue to build on this record of progress, but to do so we are going to need effective representation in the Senate. Morrison is the man to project Nebraska's new image of progress.

MRS. RICHARD JURGENS

LBJ Stamp

Lincoln—How can anyone after hearing Senator Carl Curtis Wednesday evening over KOLN-TV vote for his opponent, Governor Frank Morrison—a rubber stamp for LBJ?

MRS. F. W. WHEATLEY

Type A Lunch

Lincoln—Being a junior at Lincoln High I feel I know something about the lunchroom situation.

I don't know about our school board, but I believe, along with most responsible teens, in the separation of state and federal powers. In order to get money, which Lincoln has done nicely without, some people are willing to let the federal government even begin to control our schools, the institution of the future. This could be a beginning to more and more control. Federal control has its place, but not in schools.

Teenagers are not given enough credit in responsible choice.

Doctors have many teens on special diets for everything from overweight to acne and these lunches don't suit our needs. Most of us do eat breakfast, good ones. Last year most of our lunches were the meat dish and milk, or a very reasonable substitute. Dinner is well-balanced, like our breakfasts. Our mothers aren't stupid.

Fluoridation

Lincoln—It is unbelievable that a small group feel that they are so powerful they can prevent everyone else from expressing their opinion.

Fluorine and fluoride are our most dangerous pollution problem in air, food and water..

In spite of this we have the State Health Department, State Health Board and State Dental Association trying to prevent anyone from presenting information on or discussing this most vital problem. They would suppress the right of free speech by preventing a booth at the State Fair which did not follow their dictatorial opinion.

The time has come for everyone in the United States to know the great danger of fluorine and fluoride pollution. It is only by free public discussion of all the facts without intimidation that our people can act in their own best interest.

ROBERT C. OLNEY, M.D.
Chairman, Nebraska Committee Opposed to Fluoridation

Megolopolis

Lincoln—I compliment William S. White, the Lincoln Journal, Oct. 17, on his lucid portrayal of an economic and political cancer.

I wrote numerous theses pointing out the folly of megalopolis, which seems to be a cratomania of plutocratic oligarchy, and is perverting this great nation into a fascist autocracy.

Democracy and free enterprise is becoming a false attribute.

F. J. S.

Grocery Prices

Lincoln — What a windfall it must seem to the administration to have "spontaneous" demonstrations against grocers spring up just at the right time to shift the blame for inflated prices. The timing couldn't be better if it had been planned.

There are probably some skeptics who would believe that the government has a pamphlet available to housewives on how to organize demonstrations against grocery stores with suggested forms for petitions protesting high prices. This is only an unfounded rumor, however.

It doesn't take much to figure out that today's higher consumer prices are the result of the compounded increase in the tax load a particular item must carry from raw material through processing and delivery to the consumer. As the item passes from hand to hand it is taxed local, state and federal.

For years the voters have said they wanted all this taxation so it's hard to understand why all the fuss. If you want to picket your grocer for high food prices you should be consistent and blame the weatherman for bad weather.

R. G.

Write-In

Omaha — Nebraskans are disenchanted with this political campaign because they are forced to choose between Curtis and Morrison for senator, when it is impossible to get enthusiastic about either man.

Democrats and Republicans would prefer an alternative because Nebraska needs a man who will amount to something in the Senate.

I am asking Democrats and Republicans alike to consider writing in the name Philip Sorensen for the Senate. Sorensen is vigorous, courageous, intelligent, independent, capable and he has shown that he knows more about Nebraska than either of the "brothers grim," Curtis and Morrison.

Don't miss this chance to elect a decent senator. It will be a long time before anything like this comes along again.

GARY SCHROEDER

MORE or LESS PERSONAL

As President Johnson makes history in Manila this week, George McArthur did a little reminiscing on past Philippine history and the United States' part in it.

* * *

Manila Conference

The Manila Hotel, where the seven leaders are staying, in 1942 was the scene of ruthless fighting and was taken room by room. The Japanese military forces took over the suite Gen. Douglas MacArthur had used as his last headquarters before embarking for Corregidor.

For the conference the suites of President Johnson and his colleagues from Australia, New Zealand, South Vietnam, South Korea and Thailand have been completely redecorated.

* * *

Wealthy families have accepted the tasks of catering to the distinguished guests. Each suite is staffed and equipped with a taste for comfort and luxury. The appointments are the work of Imelda Marcos, wife of Philippine President Ferdinance Marcos who pushed through the idea for the conference on his state visit to Washington last month.

* * *

The Philippines was the United States venture into colonialism. The islands were ceded to the U.S. by Spain in 1898. Between then and 1946 when the Philippines were granted independence, the United States sent some remarkable men to the Philippines with the result there has been an enduring friendship between the two countries.

President Marcos explains it this way: "It is to the credit of America that her colonial record in the Philippines was enlightened. America made an honest attempt to train the Filipinos for self-government, to raise the level of education, and to improve the health and physical welfare of our people. The Filipinos were not slow to appreciate this and we repaid your administrations with one of the most unique gifts in the history of nations: real friendship."

Gen. MacArthur was one of the most remarkable Americans to serve in the Philippines. His father, Maj. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, had served 14 months as military governor in 1900-01. One of MacArthur's officers was a young major named Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The first governor general of the Islands was William Howard Taft and he was followed by Leonard Wood, Frank Murphy and Paul McNutt.

* * *

World War II and the Japanese invasion brought the realization to the Philippines and other Asian nations realized that Asian tyranny needed to be fought as much as western colonialism.

* * *

This what the Manila conference is all about. What will be discussed is vague though President Marcos is insistent that peace will be the subject, and has said that he will oppose two things—any new military alliances and any escalation of the war in Vietnam.

McArthur reports that Marcos seeks to propel his 30 million people into a position as a bridge between the West and Asia and that the Manila conference for him is just a start.

* * *

President Johnson, by his trip and attendance of the conference, has turned the world spotlight on Asia and Manila may in the future be viewed as the birth place of the Johnson policy.

NU Coed Is Pork Queen

Grand Island — A University of Nebraska home economics sophomore, Kathryn Riddle of Bartley, was crowned 1967 Pork Queen here at the fifth annual Nebraska Swine Council Pork Banquet.

Miss Riddle, a sparkling blue-eyed, brown-haired major in textiles, has been active in state and national 4-H activities. She is presently 4-H Club membership chairman at the University of Nebraska.

Other queen candidates were Pat Bourn of Lexington, first runner-up; Linda Batefield of Laurel, second runner-up; Connie Nelson of Creighton, and Alice Smith of Palmyra.

The annual Swine Breeder's Award was presented to Henry Krivohlavek of Dorchester. Krivohlavek has won many state and national awards with the registered Duroc hogs. Among his most recent contributions to the industry was showing the champion Duroc boar at the National Barrow Show in Austin, Minn.

Pork Chop Awards, presented annually to commercial producers, went to Jake Wiebe of Beatrice, Merlin Ley of Glendale and Gerald Beattie of Sumner.

The Booster Award, presented for outstanding contributions to the swine-producing industry, was awarded to Les Kennedy, manager of York Packing Co.

Swine Unit Hits Hastings Project

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Grand Island—The Nebraska Swine Council went on record here Sunday at the organization's annual meeting in opposition to the leasing of government land for the purpose of producing pork where an unfair competitive advantage exists.

Special objection was made to the leasing of a portion of the former Hastings Naval Depot land for a commercial swine operation.

The swine producers listed three advantages they consider such an operation would have to the disadvantage of pork producers in the area:

—An estimated $10,000 advantage in building cost per 1,000 hogs.

—Relatively low-cost water, electricity and other services from the city of Hastings.

—A tax advantage estimated to be $1 per head.

Continued leasing of a large number of similar plants such as the Hastings Depot could bring an unfair advantage that could have disastrous effects on the state's pork-producing industries, according to Jim Volk of Battle Creek, president of the Nebraska Swine Council.

Proposed State Constitutional Amendments

Lengthy Ballot May Prompt Agitation for Convention

By The Associated Press

Nebraska'a 91-year-old constitution, which has undergone only one major overhaul by constitutional convention since its adoption in 1875, will become subject to 18 possible piecemeal changes at the Nov. 8 general election.

The 18 amendments result from 15 bills passed by the 1965 Legislature—two containing doubleheader propositions—and an initiative petition submission on property taxes sponsored by the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation.

Only once since the 1875 constitution was adopted have so many proposed changes confronted voters at one time.

A constitutional convention in 1919 and 1920 produced 41 amendments, all approved by voters in 1920.

It was the last general revision in what serves as the basic law of the state. But an increasing number of individual changes have been proposed in recent years.

Agitation Anew

The large number of amendments at issue this year is expected to prompt renewed agitation for another constitutional convention, which would subject the entire constitution to review and revision.

State Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln, who intends to resign from the 1967 Legislature shortly after its convening to devote full attention to college professorship at Scottsbluff, has reported he will introduce a constitutional convention bill as a parting shot.

Such bills have shown up at several recent legislative sessions but never have received lawmaker approval. It would require a vote of the people to call such a convention, even were the Legislature to approve.

Supporters of the constitutional convention can be counted upon to call attention to the fact that more and more amendments keep getting proposed and adopted.

Forty-eight amendments have been added to the constitution since 1920, but 40 of these have been adopted since 1952. Another 11 proposed amendments have been voted down since 1952 although some of these won later approval in substance when resubmitted.

278 Bills

Altogether, the Legislature in 35 years has considered 278 bills proposing constitutional changes.

"While most of these were defeated in the Legislature and were never submitted to a vote of the people, they do indicate a continuing interest in the need or desire for constitutional changes," the Nebraska Legislative Council commented in a review of this year's proposed changes.

Proponents of the major overhaul constitutional convention approach can be expected to suggest that voters have trouble informing themselves and exercising good judgment on as many constitutional issues as are at stake this year.

A proposed amendment is approved only if it receives a majority of all votes cast on the amendment, and if the favoring votes equal at least 35% of the total votes cast.

If a large segment of voters should refrain from voting out of dismay or disgust or confusion, the 35% requirement could cause some amendments to fail despite an approving vote of those balloting.

Voc Tech Open House Is Held

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Hastings — "Girls Welcome" was the word here Monday as central Nebraska Tech held its first open house for prospective students, parents and businessmen.

"We have urged girls to come today, along with anyone else," noted Supt. Dr. Chester Gausman.

"We are the only vocational-technical school set up with classes specifically for girls, and many are probably not familiar with this idea," he explained.

The school had expected more than the 17 of the gentle sex now enrolled in business and office classes.

There is currently a data processing course, also for girls and boys, and two fields new to state technical schools—dental assistant and medical secretarial — will be open with the start of the second quarter in December. A certified laboratory assistant program will be started next March.

'Half Girls'

"We expect at least half of the student body to be girls by this time next year," said Gausman.

Currently enrolled in 13 courses are 196 from the 17-county central Nebraska area, and 35 have already signed up for the next quarter.

Gov. Frank Morrison, State Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings and officials of the State Department of Education were expected Monday to visit the new school, established at the Hastings Naval Depot. Parents, businessmen and busloads of high school students will also be among the 4,000 to 5,000 expected to attend the open house.

The school is the first to be started under the new area Vocational-Technical School Law passed by the 1965 Legislature.

Students were at work in regular classroom activities during the afternoon and again from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

The cafeteria, administration building, dormitories and warehouses converted to classroom and laboratory space were open to inspection.

interested government and civic leaders.

Ortega and other Washington-New York City consultants recommended a transportation economics study to prove them right or wrong.

Mayor Dean Petersen said the idea hasn't been rejected but that the Lincoln Airport Authority, with major interest in any aviation proposal, has been swamped with higher priority projects.

Airport Authority executive director Rolland Harr concurred with Petersen, noting also that money is tight.

He said LAPW has one advantage over other city airports in that runways needed for forthcoming jumbo jets visualized for international aerial cargo programs already exist here.

Harr said this same advantage, plus existing flight line buildings, prevails for the Authority's current campaign for tenants.

More Activity

In citing the Authority's heavy project schedule currently, Mayor Petersen pointed with satisfaction to the fact that there was more plane activity at LAPW this September than "when the air base was in full operation."

Harr's report bears this out: 16,314 operations this September, compared with 12,581 in 1965, 13,127 in 1964 and 8,569 in 1963.

General aviation traffic, excluding air carriers like United and Frontier, climbed to 5,201 in September. This plane total last year was 2,806 for September, 3,000 in 1964 and 451 in 1963.

In passengers coming and going, both Frontier and United showed substantial September hikes compared to '64 and '65. Frontier had 7,232 passengers this September, 5,726 in 1965 and 4,632 in 1964. United's total load was 4,527 for the same month, 3,812 last year and 3,901 in 1964.

Harr said the heartening hikes can be attributed to two major factors: provision of LAPW facilities in early 1964 to replace inadequate general aviation accommodations at Union Airport, and convenience of general aviation facilities today.

Nebraska	343	313
Lancaster County	30	8
Lincoln	10	5

By Associated Press

Two traffic deaths were recorded over the weekend on the Interstate Highway in Central Nebraska. Both were one-car accidents.

The most recent death reported was that of 19-year-old Gary D. Ryan, a sophomore at York College.

Ryan's car plunged off Interstate 80, 1.4 miles east of the Waco Interchange late Sunday evening and he died in York General Hospital Monday.

The other victim was Mrs. Janice Stephens, 45, of Grand Island, who died in a one-car accident on Interstate 80 about two miles west of the Goehner Interchange Sunday.

The Nebraska Safety Patrol said Mrs. Stephens was driving the car when it veered from the superhighway and crashed into a bridge. It was westbound at the time.

Charge Is Amended

Mrs. Havener Pleads Guilty

Shirley Havener, originally charged with assault with intent to commit robbery in connection with the July 29 attempted robbery of the Skylane Cafe, 5600 Cornhusker Hwy., has pleaded guilty to an amended charge of disturbing the peace.

Mrs. Havener, 34, of Greenwood, was the alleged companion of Harry E. Robbins, 25, who pleaded guilty last month to an assault with intent to commit robbery charge and was sentenced to four years in prison.

Lancaster County Judge Ralph Slocum deferred sentencing for Mrs. Havener until Nov. 23. Her bond was continued at $2,500.

According to police, a man and woman gave a note demanding money to Fern Bomberger, a waitress at the Skylane Cafe. She refused and the pair left.

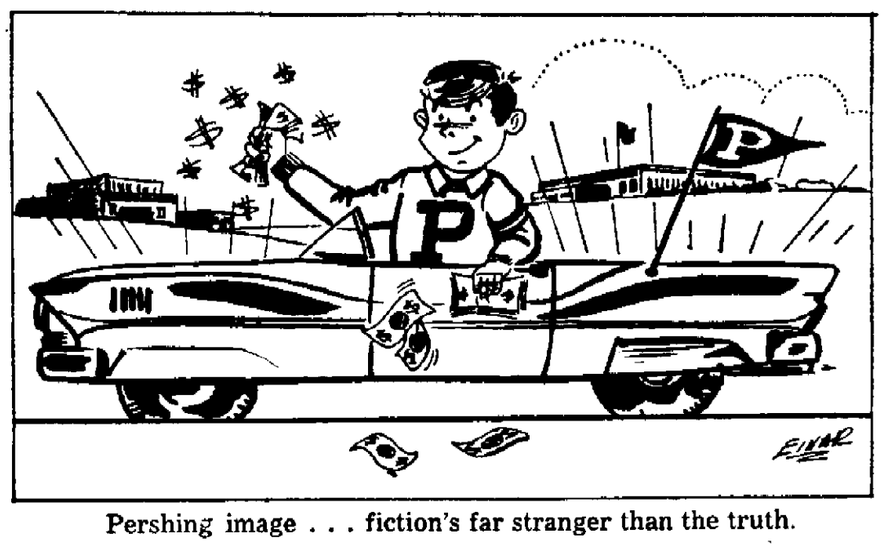
Just Ain't So



Pershing image . . . fiction's far stranger than the truth.

Truth Louses Up Some Good Stories About Pershing College's Rich Kids

Beatrice — Truth may be stranger than fiction ordinarily, but out at Pershing College it's just lousing up some good stories.

Rich-kid stories, always pinned on some unnamed easterner of unlimited means. The new-car kind of student, the coed with the "$500-per-month-and-no-more" clothing allowance, the tycoon's son who could play his monopoly with real money.

Some tales are exaggerations, some plain untruths passed along by the innocent—but always getting an ear. Take the one about the freshman who reputedly lives off campus so he can have his maid and (some versions) butler and (super versions) personal valet.

"Yeah, they're all Chinese and speak with a British accent and I keep all three in my bedroom," scoffed the one resident Pershingite who does stay in town. At age 22 he has that option, and his apartment is in Beatrice's newest rental complex — but definitely without servants.

"Big clothing accounts? Sure, I've heard the stories, even of my own business, but nobody opened them here and all the merchants I've talked with say the same," shrugged one owner of a women's shop. "A few parents okayed some small charges, but nothing to compare with the rumors. I just wish they were all true and all about my store."

Shooting Holes

Both Beatrice banks shot holes in the inflated story of the account that supposedly was opened with $32,000 "just for Junior's first year." The average student's deposit is $200 to $300, officials said, and not one is large enough to raise eyebrows.

"Certainly the college tuition is no problem for many of these students," observed one businessman. "Maybe they could even afford some of the things people are saying, but that would be true at Doane or the University as well. The fact is, Pershing students simply aren't throwing money around like the stories say."

Among things they're apparently not throwing it around for: new cars. The fellow who shelled out cash for a $4,000 hardtop in so many stories—or was it $5,000 and a convertible—is as invisible as his V-8.

And there have been no calls back East to confirm the millionaire status of any check-writing student, assured the auto dealer named in most of the rumors. His firm has, however, placed "three or four old clunkers" at Peshing.

The new college does sport its wheeled "date bait," like any campus, but in no exciting quantity. Actually only 41 cars—one for every 11 students—have been issued the required permit.

Motorcycle

"I do know of one small motorcycle that was purchased new," jested President Virgil McCain. "I'm more impressed, however, with the fact we haven't had a student yet before the disciplinary board. I have never seen a more cooperative, finer group."

$2 Million 'Cannot Be Used'

Voc Rehab Asks Funds

By BESS JENKINS

Despite a $64,000 state funds increase request for 1967-69, the State Vocational Rehabilitation division of the State Education Dept. still won't be able to use nearly $2 million available in federal money.

The only hope, according to Director Fred Novak, is more "third party money" availability during the biennium.

"Third party money" actually isn't cash but salaries of people employed by other state departments, who are or can be engaged in vocational rehabilitation programs.

Examples are Kearney's Boys Training School and Geneva's Girls Training School where federal vocational funds can be diverted because already-employed staff members soon will engage in this rehabilitative work.

Novak's 1967-69 budget request shows $319,000 of this "third party" money already is credited through other state department employes.

$440,000 Asked

This, with $504,430 in state funds asked by Novak, would give Nebraska $2,470,290 federal funds. The total would be a $3,293,720 federal-state budget for the biennium.

Novak asked $440,000 in state funds for the current biennium ending next July 1.

Nebraska stands to gain more federal support in this work through a ratio change effective this fiscal year. The matching previously was 62-38. A 75% federal, 25% state ratio was effective last July 1.

Novak said there is no doubt that Nebraska could use every dollar of the $2 million still not matched in his budget.

"We need more counselors without even considering increasing client load," Novak creasing client loads," Novak

'Even Lower'

And ideal caseload is 100 to 125, except where mentally retarded and ill clients are concerned, when it should be even lower, Novak said.

Instead, he added, caseworkers all over Nebraska have such loads as 142, 185 and 197.

Which Should Serve College?

Beatrice Transit Companies Clashing

By United Press International

Two recently-formed transit companies clashed before a State Railway Commission examiner Monday over who should provide bus service to new John J. Pershing College in Beatrice.

A decision is expected within six weeks.

Filing applications with the commission last month were Croy Enterprises Inc., doing business as College Transit Lines at 2105 East Court St., and Mark W. and Mary Clausen, doing business as Beatrice Transit Lines, 704 Court.

At the one-hour hearing before examiner Richard W. Wood, the bus companies noted there are only 450 students at Pershing College now but that enrolment is expected to mushroom to 3,500 four years hence.

However, Clausen, who also operates the Yellow Cab Co. in Beatrice, doubted a bus firm could make a profit as an independent.

He said the bus operation combined with his cab business would be a financial success. He said one would complement the other.

Two Failed

"Two bus lines started and failed in the past. This is not a particularly large town," Clausen said.

Furthermore, he added, an independent bus company would damage his cab business, which he said many people in Beatrice depend upon.

An attorney for College Transit Lines, C. Russell Mattson of Lincoln, indicated the population of Beatrice has grown 2,000 to 14,000 in the past six years. He said an engineering firm has estimated it will expand to 19,500 by 1973.

Dean Ubben, Beatrice real estate developer, supported the Croy application.

He said there is a need for bus service to the college. He said Croy Enterprises is prepared to run two 36-passenger buses between the college, just west of the city limits, to downtown Beatrice on a daily basis.

Private Citizen

Backing the Clausen application was Beatrice City Councilman Matt Hale, who appeared as a private citizen.

He said Clausen has provided satisfactory taxicab service and "I don't see any reason why he shouldn't also operate the bus."

Clausen filed an amended rate proposal at the hearing. He said the fare from downtown to the campus — and vice versa — would be 30c per passenger. The rate to Sumner St., halfway between the two points, would be 25c.

The Croy application proposed 35c from the college to downtown and 25c to Sumner St. Children under 16 could ride to any point for 25c.

Both applicants indicated they would begin operations as soon as possible. The city council has approved bus routes for them.

'City Can Regulate Liquor'

High Court Brief Filed

It is clear that local governing bodies have been delegated an independent statutory power to regulate liquor by the Nebraska Liquor Control Act, according to a brief filed by the city of Lincoln with the State Supreme Court.

The city's brief is a reply in its court battle with the State Liquor Control Commission and others on the request of Grenemeier's Inc., of Lincoln to transfer its package liquor and off-sale beer licenses from 222 and 220 No. 10th to 836 and 932 No. 70th.

"The appellees have continually argued that the only authority the city has to control the location of liquor outlets is through its zoning powers pursuant to its charter," said the city brief. "The only way one could reach this conclusion is by ignoring entirely the powers delegated by the Legislature to the local governing bodies in Sections 53-129, 53-147 and 53-134 (7) of the Nebraska Liquor Control Act."

The city's brief maintains the city's liquor policy was entirely reasonable as shown by the cases cited and the order of the commission and the decree of the district court are in error in holding otherwise.

"The Liquor Control Commission can be nothing but unreasonable, arbitrary and capricious when it refuses even to recognize those sections of the act which it has the duty to uphold," said the city's brief. "The district court has permitted the commission to encroach upon those powers expressly delegated by the Legislature to the local governing bodies."

The city's brief said that in view of the cases and law it is respectfully submitted that the decree of the district court should be reversed.

Report Is Filed

Curtis Fund Contributions

The campaign committee formed to finance the re-election efforto f Nebraska Republican Sen. Carl T. Curtis Monday reported ut had received so far $58,013.59 in contributions and other receipts.

Monday is the deadline for political committees to report all contributions in excess of $25.

The secretary of state's office anticipated a small avalanche of contribution reports befooe 5 p.m. Monday.

The Curtis campaign committee reported $45,944.95 of its cash came from trustees holding funds raised by a salute to Curtis dinner a year ago. That dinner netted some $103 000 for the veteran lawmaker.

The Curtis committee statement also disclosed $5,109.34 coming from the Nebraska Republican Committee. The largest single individual contribution reported, $500, was Pool, 96, Franklin.

YWCA Asking More Civil Rights Action

New York (AP) — The Young Women's Christian Assn., officially interracial for two decades, Monday urged all "women who care" to take affirmative aciton to further civil rights.

The call was contained in an advertisement in New York Times, signed by national leaders of the YWCA headed by Mrs. Lloyd J. Martie, of Lincoln, Neb., president of the national board.

The advertisement urged women who care "about their own children and all children . . . about their own homes and every home" to support open occupancy in housing, vote in the forthcoming elections and "say yes" to the recent statement of principles by civil rights leaders.

"Women must not hide behind reports of so-called white backlash," the advertisement said. "Women dare not retreat from the faith that we, in America, are capable of building a nation in wt hich goodwill, justice and freedom are the controlling forces.

"In these crucial days, we are determined to help create in our communities and nation a climate of new promise and hope for human dignity and freedom."

World Today

Business Leaders: Tax Increase Is Inevitable

Chicago Daily News Special

Hot Springs, Va. — Many of the men who run America's biggest corporations now accept an across-the-board tax increase in 1967 as virtually inevitable.

They would prefer to see President Johnson make bone-deep cuts in federal spending and avoid any higher levies on corporate and individual income.

But they apparently do not believe that is very likely—or politically possible — and are prepared to see a 5% tax boost to reduce business and consumer demand in the face of rising government spending on Vietnam.

The question that many business executives are now asking is not whether there will be a rise in taxes but rather: Will it do the job of checking inflationary pressures?

Leading members of the Business Council are skeptical about the braking effect of additional taxes on the economy. They also voiced apprehension that the Congress and the administration would not let a budget surplus pile up dollars in the treasury as a deflationary device.

Sheppard 'Won't Testify'

Cleveland (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's lawyer hinted Monday that the former osteopath may not take the witness stand at his murder retrial, or even offer any evidence.

Sheppard, 42, is being retried by a U.S. Supreme Court mandate after serving nine years in prison for the 1954 slaying of his first wife, Marilyn Sheppard.

When the first prospective juror was summoned at the opening of the trial Monday, Defense Atty. F. Lee Bailey asked:

"If the defendant did not testify would you feel that was any indication that he had something to hide?"

When the prospective juror Alan Severs, replied in the negative, Bailey asked:

"If at the end of the state's case, the defense says nothing and presents nothing would this indicate to you that he had something to hide?"

"No," replied Severs, 38, a bachelor who works for a firm manufacturing truck equipment.

Food Costs Bemoaned

Oakland, N.J. (UPI)—Angered at the high cost of food, a 35-year-old pharmaceuticals salesman placed local supermarkets on notice Monday — down with prices or dust will gather on the cash drawers.

"We're giving them three days to do something," said Louis Francheschini, who spent Sunday morning distributing his own mimeographed pamphlets bemoaning the high cost of bacon, bread and butter.

Francheschini is singlehandedly trying to rally this north New Jersey community of more than 10,000 into boycotting local supermarkets unless prices drop substantially by Wednesday.

"And then Thursday, Friday, Saturday and as long as necessary we will boycott, picket and parade until the food prices are lowered," he added.

Captain Faces Trial

San Francisco (UPI) — The U.S. Navy announced Monday that it will try a much-decorated Navy captain from Saigon by general court-martial.

He is Capt. Archie C. Kuntze, an Annapolis graduate, and former commanding officer of Headquarters Naval Support Activity, Saigon.

The Navy did not explain the nature of Kuntze's alleged illegal activity. It said "in order to protect the interests of the accused," no more information would be given out before the trial than what was contained in a brief statement Monday.

Four charges were enumerated. They were false testimony, violation of an order, making official statements with intent to deceive and "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman."

The decision to try Capt. Kuntze was made here by the 12th Naval Dist., commanded by Rear Admiral John E. Clark, after studying findings of a Saigon Military Board of Investigation.

Relocations of Highways 30, 275

Another Hearing Is Possible

By DEL SNODGRASS

The State Highway Commission has indicated it may hold another public hearing concerning proposals to relocate two highways in the Fremont vicinity.

The possibility of another hearing was mentioned Monday as a Fremont delegation met with the commission to say the City Council has partially withdrawn its opposition to relocating U.S. 30 through a new corridor a half mile north of the highway's present location north of town.

But for the present, Fremont spokesman Lyle Gill said, the city believes all that is needed is the resurfacing of nine miles of the present highway west of Fremont.

Several commissioners, including Chairman J. R. McBride of Minden, Merle Kinsbury of Ponca and Robert O'Keefe of Omaha, voiced his pleasure that the city's new proposal was not the one made at a recent public hearing held in Fremont.

Public Hearings

By law, they said, the commission must base its decisions concerning highway relocations on testimony presented at advertised public hearings.

Gill replied the proposed relocations of both U.S. 30 and U.S. 275 were discussed much more widely after rather than before the hearings.

But more time is needed, he said, to attempt to resolve local differences over the relocations.

The commission deferred further discussion until its November meeting.

Former State Engineer L. N. Ress, now of Omaha, appeared at the hearing representing a group of farmers whose land would be taken by the relocation of U.S. 30 to the north.

He said the State Roads Dept. should defer any relocations around Fremont until it is determined how much traffic Interstate 80 will drain away from U.S. 30.

The commission also heard from a Falls City delegation which asked that U.S. 73 rather than U.S. 75 be made the principal route if and when the junction of those two highways at the Dawson corner west of Falls City is redesigned.

Tom Davies, roads committee chairman for the Falls City Chamber of Commerce, predicted U.S. 73 eventually will carry more traffic when the Falls City interchange to Interstate Highway 29 in Missouri is constructed and the Rulo toll bridge is paid for.

The suggestion was referred to the Roads Dept's. planning section.

A delegation representing the North Omaha Commercial Club also met with the commission to suggest renumbering Interstate Route 680 in the Omaha area as I-80N in order to carry the same number as the Iowa connecting road.

In other business, the commission approved plans for resurfacing 7.8 miles of State 92 between Gering and Melbeta and 11 miles of U.S. 275 between Wisner and West Point.

Also approved was the abandonment of the U.S. 26 bypass through northern Scottsbluff. A new road further north of town has been built for that bypass.

Home Ec Education Meet Opens

A national conference on Home Economics Education, sponsored by the University of Nebraska Department of Home Economics Education, opened a week-long session Monday at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education.

Dr. Shirley Kreutz, NU associate professor of Home Economics Education, is workshop coordinator.

Thirty-four educators, all chairmen of home economics education departments from universities across the nation, are discussing home economics education at the graduate level.

Universities were selected because they have strong programs either in graduate school or research, Dr. Hazel Anthony, chairman of the Department of Home Economics Education at the University, explained.

Purpose of the work seminar is to develop curriculum materials for a graduate program and to revise a document that had been compiled during a similar 1964 conference on undergraduate programs.

Three representatives of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare—Dr. Margaret Alexander, Dr. Mary Lee Hurt and Dr. Marie Meyer—will lead workshop discussions.

Keynote speakers during the meeting are Dr. Herbert LaGrone, dean of the College of Education at Texas Christian University, and Dr. Wesley Meierhenry, assistant dean of NU Teachers College.

A discussion of course evaluation and research design will be led by Dr. John Woodward, chairman of the Department of Human Development and the Family at the University.

How Women Can Prevent 2 to 7 Lbs. of Bloating 'Water-Weight' That Causes Pre-Menstrual Miseries
New Discovery Tested By Nurses on Themselves Also Relieves Swelling, Pelvic Pressure, Dizzy Spells, Pain and Its Moodiness, Nervous Tension. An Entirely New and Medically Proven Formula.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — Doctors who are specialists in women's ailments have now discovered that several days before a woman's period her system often stores up an abnormal accumulation of water — from 2 to 7 lbs. This causes body tissues to swell and results in a sudden gain of weight and abdominal puffiness

It also causes breast soreness, headache, depression, nervous tension and dizzy spells.

But now science has developed astonishing medical help — a new tablet called Trendarp. Trendar helps prevent the build-up of harmful excess water and so promptly eliminates the bloating weight. It relieves headache, cramps and accompanying nervous tension, irritability, depression, and dizzy spells both before and during periods — in a way no pain reliever alone possibly can.

Trendar Tablets have been thoroughly tested by hundreds of Registered Nurses on themselves. Proven safe and effective when taken as directed. Now obtainable without prescription at any drug counter. Buy Trendar at once!

Ann Landers.... Answers Personal Problems

Man More Than Concerned; Sentiments Show Depression

Dear Ann Landers: I was shocked at your reply to the man who wrote that he was a nervous wreck because of worry over the possibility of nuclear warfare. He said that although he presented a picture of perfect composure and stability to his boss and colleagues, he was fighting hard to stay out of the booby hatch. You told him to see a psychiatrist.

Did it ever occur to you that those who are deeply concerned about our insane foreign policy may be the sane ones while those who are NOT concerned, might be the nuts?

I believe it is a sign of sound mental health to worry about the state of the world. I don't know when I have been more disappointed in you, Ann Landers.

Let Down

Dear Let Down: The man who wrote was more than "concerned." He said he was sorry he had been born and he hated himself for having brought five children into this crazy world. His sentiments reflected a deep state of depression. The experts tell me this type of anxiety is produced by something closer to the inner core than "our insane foreign policy." So I told him, "It's less painful to blame the state of the world for your unhappiness, than to look inside yourself and learn what is really bothering you."

I agree that people should be concerned about the state of the world, but concern is meaningless unless it is translated into action. To worry one's self to the point of illness is not, in my opinion, either realistic or an evidence of "sound mental health."

Peace is not automatic. If we want a safe and secure world we must work for it. Many excellent organizations are working for peace and I urge all Americans who share their objectives to become involved in these organizations — and put their money up where their mouth is.

As President Kennedy said, "Mankind must put an end to war or war will put an end to mankind."

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to know if it is proper for a bridegroom to sing a couple of numbers at his own wedding.

Our daughter is marrying a very nice chap who does a lot of singing at church affairs and private parties. Sheldon is not a professional singer but his voice is beautiful.

He wants to sing "Because" and "I Love You Truly" at his own wedding. It seems unusual to me, but is it actually wrong? Please advise at once.

Waiting to Hear

Dear Waiting: It would be bad taste for him to perform. The groom is there to get married, not to entertain the guests. I hope Sheldon will ask someone else to sing if he wants that type of music.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

At Fairbury

Housing Unit Dedicated

Fairbury — Parkview Manor, a high-rise 60-apartment complex, was dedicated Sunday to the "very deserving portion of mankind" who will comprise its senior citizen occupants.

An estimated 500 persons overflowed both the brick structure's sunny terrace and indoor community room for the ceremony. Senator Carl T. Curtis gave the dedicatory address.

"This is not charity on our part, we're just balancing the books," said the speaker of the low-rent housing. Its residents, he explained, are the "deserving sons and daughters of pioneers who helped to build Nebraska."

Robert Denney, attorney for the Fairbury housing authority, cited the project as "a perfect example of how local and federal government can work hand in hand." The $880,000 building has federal financial backing, he noted, while remaining under local ownership and operation.

Introduced as the venture's "guiding light and driving force," Authority Chairman L. K. Cramb briefly reviewed four years' work leading to construction. Also introduced were executive director Faye Craig and board members Merl Hokenstad, Howard Boeckner, Ernest Kriesel and E. C. Trindel Milbert Schroeder, William Brehm and H. L Korte are deceased.

A formal welcome by Mayor Ted Scherbarth brought a response from Mrs. Roy Holloway Sr. on behalf of the present 37 tenants. Most of the other units have been reserved and are near completion.

Three Youths Break Out of Ogallala Jail

Ogallala (AP) — Three young men from Rochester, Minn., held on a charge of vagrancy but due to be released from jail Monday, broke out of the Keith County jail Sunday.

Sheriff Ivan Armstrong identified them as Richard Henry Shafer, 17; Ronald Gale Vandel, 18, and Robert Arnold Hennum, 18, all of Rochester.

Sheriff Armstrong said the trio were picked up by city police and were being held at the county jail.

Armstrong said they smashed a bunk in the cell, took a steel leg and pried the bottom part of the steel door off. He said there were steel cross-bars on the door.

Then, the sheriff said, the three went through his private apartment to freedom. Sheriff Armstrong was pheasant hunting at the time and his wife was at church.

The last they were seen, he said, "They were fleeing on foot north of Ogallala"

The Nebraska Police Officers Association, headed by Ogallala Police Chief Veldon Fuller, is scheduled to open a two-day meeting in Ogallala Monday.

Four-year-old Michael Worm died in a Lincoln hospital Sunday night of a stomach wound suffered in an accidental shooting at his home near Ceresco. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Worm.

The Lancaster County sheriff's office said the boy was sitting on the lap of his grandather, William Kappen of Lincoln, as they watched other members of the family who were target shooting.

Officers said the 16-gauge shotgun apparently discharged as Michael's 17-year-old brother Kenneth was loading it. Kappen was not injured.

Bull, Cow Tests Set

Calves Will Be Weighed

Approximately 700,000 beef calves will be weighed this year under performance testing programs, a University of Nebraska Extension livestock specialist said.

"The weaning weights are obtained to evaluate the producing ability of the bulls and cows being used in beef breeding herds." Dearborn said.

The weaning weights are just one major part of a performance record program, he said.

Records on all important economic traits are especially important to the purebred producer, Dearborn added, and should be evaluated both by the breeder and by his commercial customers.

Nebraska cattlemen interested in improving beef performance include members of the Nebraska Beef Cattle Improvement Assn., which will have four area meetings next month—at North Platte Nov. 14, Columbus Nov. 15, Atkinson Nov. 16 and Hemingford Nov. 17.

Largest Crowd Hears NU Coach

'Churchich's Best Game' Says Bob

By CURT MOSHER

The sign on the marquee at the Lincoln Hotel read "Welcome Bob Devaney," which presumably is an old Indian word meaning "every adult male in the village."

Because they were all there Monday, making up the largest Extra Point crowd in history, and, oddly enough, numbered among them was a fellow by that name — Bob Devaney, a football coach.

He came to tell about his team's 21-19 victory at Colorado Saturday and did just that, touching all bases, including the ticklish ones.

"I'm sure some of you are wondering why we didn't go for two points," he said referring to the extra point play after the final NU touchdown, which would have made a Buff field goal good for only a tie.

"Right after we scored John (Melton) came running up to me and said, 'don't coach, I've got you by two in the pool.' Except for that we should have gone for two."

The coach was asked, too, if he thought Bob Churchich got the ball over for the touchdown which the officials ruled fell inches short and nullified an excellent drive by the Cornhuskers.

Bob said he didn't know that some of his players thought Churchich was in, but had he been the official he didn't know how he would have called it. Then be said,

Journal Sports

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA
MON., OCT 24, 1966—P.M.
PAGE 11

"I think if I'd been in front of that big homecoming crowd, I'd have called it just like they did."

On the clock, which Colorado coach Eddie Crowder, felt had molasses in its gears, Bob said as far as he knew there was no discrepancy.

"When Eddie Crowder got out on the field, he should have been hoping it was stopped. We were just about to score a touchdown and he needed all the time he could get.

"It was their timekeeper," Bob deadpanned. "We can't argue with them on that."

And he was asked about his pre-game psychological move of recommending that Colorado screw on its helmets.

"I got about tired of hearing how pepped up Colorado was and how they'd been looking for us for a whole year. I thought they might think we weren't going to show up," the coach said.

Devaney had obviously been nettled about the way the Colorado talk had been in reference to how great Nebraska was with its big backs and linemen.

"Colorado had bigger, faster backs than we did," he said. "Their linemen were just as big. Their kids were as quick as ours and they've got just as many. Colorado was a good football team.

"But as good as they are, I do think Missouri's a better team, a sounder team.

"But Colorado was a great team and I'm glad we don't have to play them again."

Devaney gave full credit to Dan Kelly, who he said had just about as much fun as any quarterback ever had in that first half.

He noted it looked like everyone was celebrating St. Patrick's Day.

But in the second half he said his team played about as well as it could.

He called Churchich's performance probably his best ever, particularly the way he guided the last drive.

He gave blanket approval to the club, line and backs, for the second half effort, noting particularly how well the offensive line charged out during those three running plays from the nine-yard line.

He labeled it the best he'd seen.

NU aide Clete Fischer who gave the scouting report on Missouri and warned how tough the Tigers had been in the past and how good they are now.

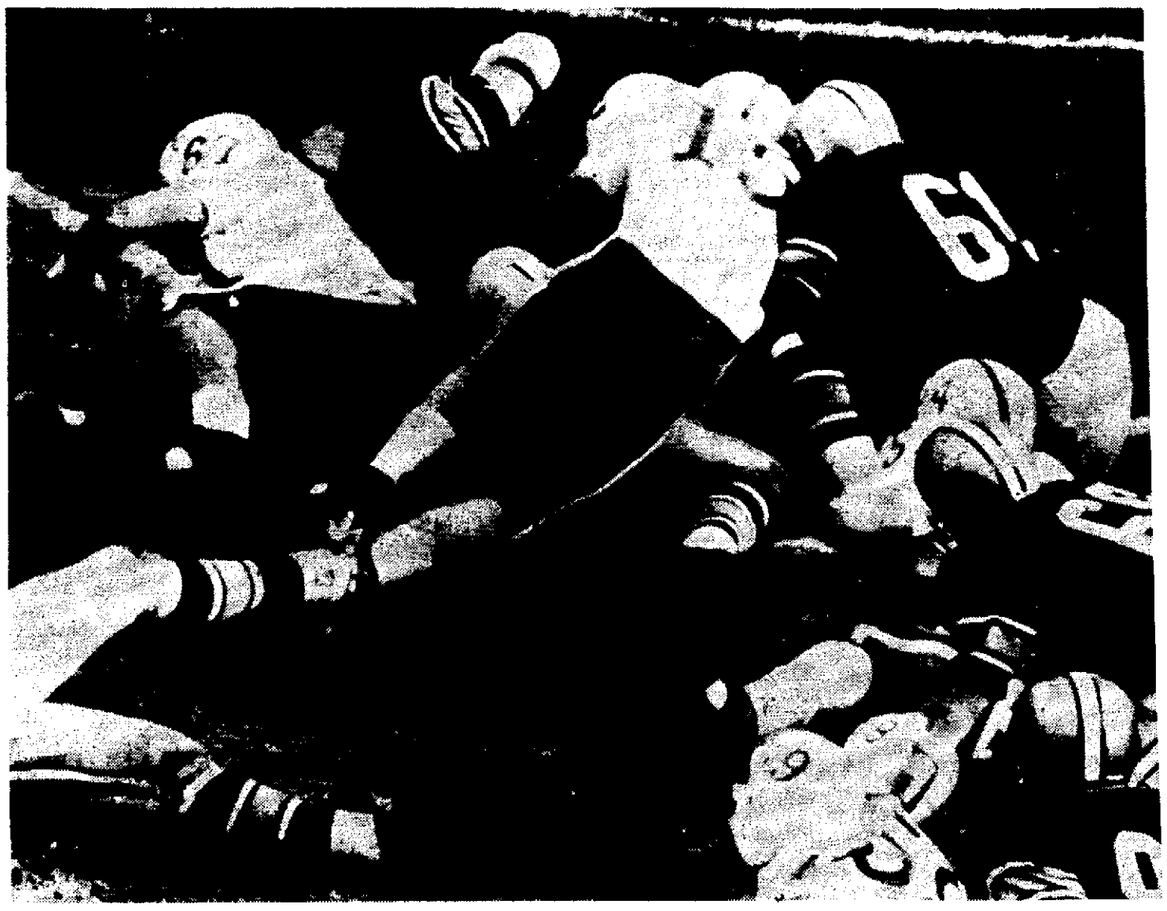
Clete figured, too, that it was his scouting report which drew the overflow crowd.

That crowd included politicos Nobby Tiemann and Carl Curtis.

After introducing them, Bob said if there were any others in the audience he would be glad to give equal time.

But he warned them about giving their speeches with too much gusto. He said he did that against K-State at the half with a 14-0 lead and they almost got beat.

Saturday, he said, he couldn't think of anything to say so he said it.



Was he or wasn't he? It didn't matter in the end, but at the time Nebraska's Bob Churchich came so close to going in for a touchdown that didn't count, it looked like a big play.

Dukes No. 5

York Flies High On Single Wing

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

An unbeaten season and top ranking in Class B are long forgotten as goals for the York Dukes, who had both prizes a year ago.

But coach Jerry Yowell claims another major victory as he sends the Dukes, now 4-2 and fifth-ranked in Class B, down the stretch.

That one, the acceptance of the single wing attack, is almost as gratifying as the other lofty goals.

"We're looking better every time we take the field," says Jerry, who switched the Dukes to the single wing attack when he succeeded Hank Amend as coach this fall.

"I think the kids tended to resent it at first, but they like it now. All they wanted to do at first was fool the opposition and that stuff won't carry you very far," he indicated.

"They were just brush blocking then, but now they're learning how to knock some people down," he points out.

The debut of the single wing was something less than spectacular as the Dukes fumbled and sputtered in dropping a 19-14 decision to David City, which remains unbeaten in seven starts.

"The kids found out they could play at Fairbury the next week," Yowell indicates. The Dukes won that one, 6-0, and have taken three of four since that time.

The setback was a 17-14 loss to top-ranked Aurora.

The Dukes made a believer out of Aurora coach Roland Carter.

"I think they are as sound fundamentally as any team I've seen," says Carter, "they really came at us."

With underclassmen purposely installed at the vital center, blocking back and tailback spots Yowell figures that the Dukes will be able to keep the errors to a minimum when they start their 1967 campaign.

"Ken Kunze and Gary Rathje have been doing a good job for us at center and we have Don Rousseau at blocking back and Sherdal Lewis at tailback, says Yowell in pointing out the contributions made by the junior class.

Yowell put Lewis in the tailback spot and moved Bob Whitmore to wingback after the David City game in one of several personnel switches that have helped the club get on the win trail.

Against outclassed Hebron last week the Dukes rolled up over 400 yards on the ground.

York has climbed to No. 5 in the Class B race this week with unbeaten Aurora, Fremont Bergan, David City Aquinas and David City holding down the top spots.

Lexington, which nailed down at least a share of the Southwest Conference title by whipping Holdrege, climbs back to No. 7 and western power Kimball cracks the chart at the No. 8 position.

In Class A unbeatens Omaha Tech and Lincoln Pius X are being chased by once-beaten Omaha Westside and Lincoln Northeast.

Husker Stock Balloons

By Associated Press

Nebraska's unbeaten, 7th-ranked Huskers finally have their followers bursting with pride. For the first time this season they emerged as clearly the Big Eight's best football team.

The Huskers did it with a dramatic 21-19 victory at Colorado on two last-quarter touchdown drives directed by quarterback Bob Churchich, while Missouri fought for its life to tie Iowa State, 10-10, and Oklahoma's perfect record was shattered 38-0 by top-ranked Notre Dame.

Nebraska isn't the only Big Eight team without a conference defeat. Oklahoma, 2-0, and Missouri, 2-0-1, have yet to lose a league game.

But indications were never stronger that Coach Bob Devaney is headed for his fourth straight league championship down the stretch, starting with Missouri at Lincoln Saturday.

"It's the same old story," said Missouri coach Dan Devine when asked about Nebraska. "They are just as good as they have to be."

Churchich passed for all but 20 yards in the 63 and 68-yard last quarter drives as he completed 10 for 111 yards. Pete Tatman blasted over from the two behind tackle Bob Pickens and guard Jim Osberg for the winning TD with 53 seconds left. Churchich finished with 236 air yards, a school record, and Devaney termed it "a great clutch performance."

Colorado ripped the Huskers for a 19-7 halftime bulge as Buff quarterback Dan Kelly got all but 45 of his 214 yards total offense — 115 of which came on the ground. All the Colorado points came with Wayne Meylan, Nebraska's great middle guard, out with an injury. He returned the second half. Colorado was fired high for a homecoming crowd of 46,112.

Oklahoma State took over fourth place at 2-1 by defeating Kansas, 10-7, while Kansas State lost, 28-14, at Cincinnati in other games.

Missouri was down, 10-0, with eight minutes left and needed a fantastic leaping catch in the end zone by Chuck Weber of a Danny Sharp pass to get the tie. The Missouri crowd of 47,000 was greatly relieved.

The largest crowd ever at Norman, 63,439 watched the Irish turn it into a rout after OU's great nose guard, Granville Liggins, left with an ankle injury in the second period with the game scoreless.

"They had speed when they had to have strength" said OU coach Jim Meckenzie of the awesome Irish. It was OU's worst defeat in 20 years.

Oklahoma plays at Colorado, Iowa State at Oklahoma State and Kansas at K-State in other games Saturday.

Benched Starter Mitchell Sparks Washington Upset

Washingon (AP)—Washington flanker Bobby Mitchell says he doesn't understand why he didn't start against the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals Sunday, but he doesn't expect to sit the bench again.

"Man, when you've been around this league eight or nine years and you don't start, it gets to you," said Mitchell after Washington's 26-20 upset over the Eastern Division leaders, who had been unbeaten.

"I don't know why Otto didn't have me in the starting lineup . . . it sure is frustrating. I felt that this could be my best year in the NFL. And then I'm benched."

Coach Otto Graham wouldn't give a clear answer on not starting Mitchell, the league's leading pass receiver before Sunday's game. But he indicated he was not impressed with the flanker's play in a loss to New York last weekend.

"It's a familiar affair," Graham said. "Bobby didn't play his best game last week, so we decided to start Freddy Mazurek. It's as simple as that.

"You might say Mitchell responded," said Graham, adding with a smile: "If he'll respond like that every time, he'll never start again."

Mitchell didn't get into the game until the second quarter and didn't have a pass thrown to him until the third period.

But on the first play of the fourth quarter, he took a 15-yard pass from quarterback Sonny Jurgensen for a touchdown that put the Redskins ahead 19-13. Little more than two minutes later, he was on the other end of a 44-yard Jurgensen aerial for another touchdown, which put the game on ice for Washington.

Until Mitchell scored the first touchdown, the Redskins had depended on the foot of soccer-style kicker Charley Gogolak, who booted field goals of 39, 9, 34 and 19 yards.

"The good rush helped us," said Cleveland Browns' safetyman Ross Fichtner, who leads the league with seven interceptions. "This is the best over-all defensive team we've had since I've been here."

Fichtner grabbed three of the four steals off Dallas Cowboys' quarterback Don Meredith Sunday in a 30-21 victory before a record home crowd of 84,721.

The triumph put the Browns back into the Eastern Division race.

The Cowboys went into the game as the league's best passing team, and moved 257 yards in the air, but the interceptions gave the Browns too many chances.

Two of the thefts, one by Fichtner and another by Mike Howell, led to third quarter touchdowns when the Browns broke it open with 17 points.

Dallas came back with two touchdowns in the last 6½ minutes but the issue was no longer in doubt.

Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry agreed with Fichtner on the rush, strongest in the second half.

"That was the strongest pressure I've ever seen a Browns' line play," Landry said, "especially tackles Jim Kanicki and Walter Johnson. They came to play. So did we, but . . .

"We dropped three or four passes that we had right in our hands," Landry continued, "and they intercepted a couple of those. That was the ball game."

Cleveland's strategy was simple — get to Meredith and keep Bob Hayes from going deep for the bomb.

"You don't bomb Cleveland," Hayes said. "The Browns played for the deep ball all day. They just let us have the short ones." Hayes' longest pass reception was 21 yards.

"We think he's going to be a real good one," said Detroit Coach Harry Gilmer about Karl Sweetan, the Lions' quarterback discovery.

And if Sweetan continues to perform the way he did Sunday in his debut as a starter, then his story could rival that of Johnny Unitas and the Baltimore quarterback's rise from sandlots to National Football eLague stardom.

Now the regular Detroit quarterback because of a season-ending injury to Milt Plum, Sweetan won the battle of statistics against nine-year veteran John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers.

Brodie, however, won the game with 27-24 with a 21-yard touchdown pass to tight end Monty Stickles with only three seconds to go.

The 23-year-old Sweetan completed 19 of 34 passes for 227 yards, threw twot ouchdowns, no interceptions and called most of the plays. Brodie suffered three interceptions, completed 18 of 35 for 221 yards and only one touchdown—the winning one.

"I was lucky," said Sweetan, a polite graduate of Wake Forest. "My blocker and receivers were real good.

Big Teams to Mix It Up

By DON FORSYTHE

Football playoffs?
Who needs 'em!

The way things are turning out in the Nebraska Class A and B football races the regular season schedules are taking care of many of the questions that might be settled in playoffs.

As the preps head into the eighth week of the schedule there are several meetings of rated teams still to come.

The action is widely scattered this week because of the annual teachers' conventions with action beginning Tuesday night and carrying on through Saturday.

In Class A this week No. 1 Omaha Tech puts its unbeaten mark on the line against once-beaten and third-ranked Westside Wednesday night while Lincoln Northeast and Lincoln High, once-beaten teams, meet Friday night in the Trans-Nebraska Conference showdown.

In Class B top-ranked Aurora invades No. 9 Seward for a Wednesday battle while unbeaten David City (No. 4) and undefeated Papillion (No. 6) are set for a Friday night showdown in David City.

And another Class B attraction is shaping up for Nov. 11 with second-ranked Fremont Bergan and third-ranked David City Aquinas expected to bring undefeated records into the inaugural Centennial Conference playoff.

A look at this week's top games with the predicted winners listed in bold face type:

Aurora at Seward (Wed.)—Both clubs offer sound running games and good passing. Huskies have better balance and get the call.

Hooper at West Point (Wed.)—Cadets to keep marching.

Pius X v. Southeast (Wed.)—Thunderbolts have too much firepower for Knights to contain.

O. Tech v. O. Westside (Wed.)—Tough to stay unbeaten in this league.

Tecumseh at Wilber (Wed.)—Visitors tabbed in meeting of good Class C elevens.

Beaver Crossing at Milligan (Thur.) — Speed will pay off for Roosters.

Northeast v. Lincoln High (Fri.)—Rockets have defense to slow down swift Links.

O. Bishop Ryan at Bellevue (Fri.)—This one's a little easier for tough-luck Chieftains.

Papillion at David City (Fri.)—Something's gotta give here.

Hastings at Grand Island (Fri.)—Islanders making steady progress.

I May Be Wrong

By Curt Mosher
Journal Sports Editor

It was Oklahoma coach Jim Mackenzie who earlier in the season was talking about his club and pointing out he didn't know how good it was because it hadn't had a "gut check" as yet.

He described a gut check as trailing a tough opponent by two touchdowns while moving against the wind in the fourth quarter.

There was such an intestinal fortitude examination in Boulder Saturday afternoon. It hit everyone, the Nebraska coaches, the Nebraska players, the fans and even the writers, who had to extract the lumps the size of watermelons from their throats and try to describe what had to be one of the great football games in Big Eight history.

There was the case of one Denver scribe, who, while not writing a game account but an on the spot column, decided to polish if off at the half.

He wrote of that superb moment in Colorado history when Dan Kelly had brought coach Eddie Crowder's Buffs all the way back from the rebuilding beginning.

It Looked Rigged

At that point he could hardly be scoffed at. Kelly had indeed engineered something which hadn't happened to NU in Bob Devaney's time. Colorado was marching through Nebraska like a parade down O Street.

And, just to prove how things were going, at the halftime a homecoming queen with the fictitious sounding name of Buff Crowder was crowned. The entire day was taking on the aura of a fiendish plot to satiate the Buff brigade which was fired up like a cheap firecracker.

But it wasn't long before the Denver writer had some misgivings about all of his halftime efforts. A little later he was ready to eat his prose.

He finally choked on it. And all because another group simply refused to do just that—choke. And I'm not talking about writers, I'm talking about the Cornhuskers.

The List Is Long

What can be said about a play like Lynn Senkbeil made to knock Kelly out of bounds and save a two point conversion which might have forced a tie or changed things to make it even worse?

Or about Larry Wachholtz who kicks perfectly, handles punts flawlessly when he's surrounded by gold and black uniforms, picks off passes like an acrobat and doesn't give an inch when he's the last thing between the goal and a 200-pounder running at sprinter speed?

Or a defensive team which had been made to look like an inebriate going against Sugar Ray Robinson suddenly wouldn't budge far enough to let their mothers through the front door?

Or a Wayne Meylan who plays better hurt than most do healthy?

Or a Bob Weinman or a Bob Lints who had more anonymity than the Unknown Soldier going in and came out so lifelike that Dan Kelly saw them in his sleep?

Cool One Himself

Or a Tom Penney or Dennis Morrison, the latter forgetting he's spent his young life as a quarterback and halfback long enough to equal a school record with eight pass receptions and had sturdy hands under conditions when you would think it would be difficult to hold a cup of coffee?

Or an offensive line which gave enough time to its passer to allow him to set records?

Or a coaching staff which kept its cool in a sweatbox?

And last, but far from least, the original Mr. Cool, Bob Churchich?

It is one thing to set records like some of those in the southwest which are established against something like the Class C Executive Club midgets.

It is something else again to set them when if you don't you don't even win.

His 20 completions were four more than any other Husker had managed in one game and they also gave him the seasonal record for NU.

Churchich was, if you'll pardon an over used word, great. It was only a week ago some felt he was for the birds.

Saturday, he served up a king-sized serving of crow.

Fans Spark Onside Kick By Chiefs

Denver, Colo. (AP)—Kansas City coach Hank Stram says he used onside kicks after the last two touchdowns in a 56-10 romp over Denver Sunday to keep the players away from irate customers in the south stands.

Denver fans interpreted the onside kickoffs to mean Stram wanted more points. They pelted him and his players with beer cans, paper caps filled with ice, a large thermos jug and other debris.

"Our intention was to kick short and let Denver have it near the middle of the field," Stram said. "But darned if we didn't get the ball both times and wind up playing in the south end."

Stram praised the loyalty of the Denver fans, however.

"There isn't another group of fans in the American Football League like Denver's south standers," Stram said. The dressing rooms are directly below the south stands.

Kansas City rolled up 614 yards total offense, only 20 short of the AFL record set by Oakland against Denver two years ago. Their point total was three short of the AFL mark they set at Denver in 1963.

The victory put the Chiefs in first place in the AFL western division.

Bad boy Bert Coan has been nothing but good news for the Kansas City Chiefs and Coach Hank Stram this season.

Coan is the one-time problem child halfback who has been nothing but trouble for opposing linemen around the American Football League.

He rushed for three touchdowns and caught a Pete Beathard pass for a fourth.

The Chiefs' victory lifted them one half game in front of San Diego, which lost at Boston 35-17. The Patriots' victory moved Boston within one half game of New York in the East as the Jets were beaten by Oakland 24-21 in the final minute.

Miami won its second straight, beating Houston 20-13.

Coan rushed for touchdowns of 35, 18 and 19 yards before grabbing Beathard's 19-yard pass for his fourth TD of the day. The 26-year-old running back gained 111 yards along the ground and moved into fourth place among the AFL's rushers.

Coan's controversial background includes a celebrated transfer from TCU to Kansas and a recruiting squabble that ended with Kansas stripped of its Big Eight title.

Three different quarterbacks guided Miami to its second straight victory. George Wilson Jr., and Rick Norton each put points on the scoreboard for the Dolphins against Houston before being injured.

Dick Wood took over and marched Miami into position for two Gene Mingo field goals that wrapped it up.

Cookie Gilchrist, making his debut for Miami, carried 10 times for 32 yards and caught a 13-yard TD pass from Norton.

McCook's 'Finest Effort'

By RILEY HALL

"It was the finest team effort in my 17 years of coaching," McCook Junior College coach Rex Grossart said of his team's 34-8 victory over Air Force junior varsity.

His team had just defeated the Junior Cadets for the second straight time, the only two losses ever suffered by the Air Force to a junior college squad. McCook downed the Cadets last season at home, 15-14.

"They only made one first down in the first half, Grossart continued. "Our defensive unit allowed them only 27 yards on the ground with all the credit going to our line coach Larry Kramer.

"We always played real good against them, but I think the main reason for our surprising victory was the fact that the boys wanted to play university-type ball," Grossart explained. "This film is the one the universities want to use to look at our players

"If the boys can play a good game against a major college junior varsity that has four or five seniors playing on it — they can play on university level."

Ron Morse, 6-2, 210-pound fullback, kept Air Force off balance with his hard running up the middle. Morse is presently being looked over by Kansas State and Kansas and two or three other major universities.

Standouts for McCook offensively were Doug Hollinger, who scored two touchdowns and kicked three extra points, and quarterback Freddy Summers, who tossed touchdown passes of 30 and 17 yards.

Elsewhere in state college football; Augustana overran Hiram Scott in the final period, scoring two touchdowns to win, 36-21.

Concordia defeated winless Northwestern, 20-14, with Dick Grauer breaking loose for 189 yards.

Yankton's Roger Heirigs and Bruce Cerone scored touchdowns in the last four minutes to down Dana, 27-10.

Omaha received its sixth loss of the season when Eastern New Mexico rolled up a 23-0 victory. The loss marked the second time the Indians have been blanked in coach Al Caniglia's seven years at Omaha.

Undefeated Doane continued its streak with a 27-6 victory margin over St. Mary's. Hastings downed Peru 13-7 to gain firm possession of second place in the NCC. Peru's homecoming was marred with fumbles by both squads, Hastings dropping four and Peru two.

The Tri-State Conference picture has Westmar battling for the second spot with their win over Midland, 20-7. Westmar will have a chance to tie for conference honers early next month when they meet front-runner Sioux Falls.

In junior college action, Fairbury rolled over Highland, Kan., 36-18 and Waldorf, Iowa dropped Norfolk, 42-25

Jim Taylor May Leave

Milwaukee, Wis. (AP) — Fullback Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers may be leaving and his understudy, Jim Grabowski, may have arrived.

Taylor told The Associated Press Sunday that he was playing out his option with the Packers.

Grabowski, being groomed to succeed Taylor some day in the Green Bay backfield, didn't say anything much. He just outgained Taylor and everyone else as the Packers embarrassed the Atlanta Falcons 56-3 in the most lopsided game of the National Football League season.

"We just haven't negotiated a contract to my satisfaction," said Taylor, 31, a nine-year veteran who is the leading ground gainer in Green Bay history. If he doesn't sign a contract with the Packers, he would be free to sign with someone else next year.

Grabowski, an Illinois All-America who signed with the Packers for an estimated $250,000, was given a rare chance against the winless Falcons to show what he was worth.

The rookie responded by gaining 52 yards, two more than Taylor, after replacing the veteran in the third period.

Grabowski said Taylor told him, "Go in there and do a good job."

"I've got a heckuva back ahead of me," said Grabowski.

Taylor, who had praise for Grabowski's play, said he had no quarrel with the big Grabowski bonus. But the former Louisiana State University star admitted that the bonus had a bearing on his own salary demands.

"Sure it does," said Taylor. "It has a bearing both on your pride and your performance as an individual."

Rematch May End Bickering

Mexico City (AP) — Sugar Ramos may be the world's lightweight champion in Mexico, but Carlos Ortiz of New York still is the 135-pound titleholder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

That's what Robert Evans, president of the WBA, said in the wake of the controversy in Louisville, Ky., Sunday night in the wake of the controversial decision here Saturday night by which Ramos was declared the champion when Ortiz refused to re-enter the ring after the fight had been stopped in the fifth.

Referee Billy Conn, the former world light-heavyweight champ from Pittsburgh, Pa., had stopped the fight with Ramos bleeding profusely from a cut over his left eye. He declared Ortiz the winner by a technical knockout.

Ortiz went to his dressing room and refused to return when Ramon Velasquez, secretary of the World Boxing Council, ruled that the fight should continue since Ramos was able to go on. After a 10-minute time limit Velasquez declared Ramos the world champion.

Bribe Case List Grows

Baton Rouge, La. (AP)—The FBI arrested a second man Monday for allegedly attempting to bribe Louisiana State University football players to fix six LSU games this fall.

A third man was being sought, the FBI said. All three live here.

Arrested Monday was Joseph Lee Nolan, who in the past has held a federal wagering stamp. Nolan, who celebrated his 26th birthday Monday was charged with attempting to influence by bribery LSU's six games played to date.

Komives Relives Past, Leads New York Win

By Associated Press

It was just like being back in college for Howard Komives.

Komives, the 1963-64 collegiate scoring champion with Bowling Green, paced the New York attack with 24 points Sunday, in leading the Knicks past Chicago, 124-105.

Only 6-1 and 185 pounds. Komives relies on his long shots for point production. In fact, it was not until early in the fourth quarter, when Komives really began hitting from long range, that New York pulled away.

It was the first home defeat for the surprising Bulls, now 5-2 and leading the Western Division of the NBA. The Knicks are 3-2.

Dick Barnett helped the New York cause with 21 points, while Bob Boozer led the Chicago attack with 20. Guy Rodgers had 18 for the Bulls.

In the only other game Sunday, the Detroit Pistons turned back the San Francisco Warriors, 119-110, at Seattle, Wash.

Lincoln church news is carried on a special page in the "Sunday Journal and Star".

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

BY SYLVANUS M. DUVALL, PH.D., AND EVELYN M. DUVALL, PH.D.

1. Wrong. Any intelligent person questions his own feelings. Romantic fiction says that when you are in love you are sure. But, in real life there are many doubts and uncertainties, partly because love is so complex and means so many things to so many people. It is more than just a mood in the moonlight. It swings through the whole gamut of feelings; sometimes satisfying and sure, sometimes not so pleasant or reassuring. We ought to know. We've been in love for many years—we think.

2. Is moving too easy for today's families? Yes— No—

Yes. Savilla Millis Simons, general director of the Travellers Aid Association, says, "With 76% of families owning cars, moving is almost too easy. Too many people move blindly, impulsively. They do not make an effort to get a realistic appraisal of conditions or their chances of finding work where they are going. They usually start with a small nest egg, but the first emergency—a car breakdown, family illness—wipes this out." Advance planning is recommended for any family considering a move from one place to another.

Mother: "I'm going to stick a pin in your balloon and break it because you broke Sister's."

Mother: "You must give Sister your balloon because you stuck a pin in hers and broke it."

Doing the same mean thing to a child that he has done to another is not an acceptable way to teach him to be kind to others.
